

Literature Cited in 90-Day Finding on a Petition to List the San Felipe Gambusia (Gambusia clarkhubbsi) as Endangered
February 2007

Peer reviewed original research based on data

Lopez-Fernandez, H., and K.O. Winemiller. 2005. Status of Dionda Diaboli and Report of Established Populations of Exotic Fish Species in Lower San Felipe Creek, Val Verde County, Texas. The Southwestern Naturalist 50(2): 246-251.

Garrett, G.P., and R.J. Edwards. 2003. New Species of Gambusia (Cyprinodontiformes: Poeciliidae) from Del Rio, Texas. Copeia (4): 783-788.

Garrett, G.P., R.J. Edwards, and C. Hubbs. 2004. Discovery of a new population of Devils River minnow (Dionda diaboli), with implications for conservation of the species. The Southwestern Naturalist 49(4): 435-441.

Gray research based on data

HDR Engineering. 2001. Investigation of a proposed well field in Val Verde County, Texas. Prepared for San Antonio Water System. November 2001.

House Research Organization. 2006. Groundwater Management Issues in Texas. Texas House of Representatives, House Research Organization, Austin, Texas, Focus Report Number 79-14, 12 pp.

Marbury, L., and M. Kelly. 2005. Spotlight on Groundwater Conservation Districts in Texas. Environmental Defense, Austin, Texas, 13 pp.

Texas Center for Policy Studies. 2001. Water ranching in the Lone Star State. Texas Water Policy Update, 3 pp.